Stassen Looses Fresh Barrage At McCarthy

Charges Senator With Falsehoods In Talk On Red Trade

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration seemed headed today for continued conflict with Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) despite cautions from some Republican quarters against broadening the senator's dispute with top Army officials.

Foreign Aid Administrator Harold E. Stassen loosed a fresh attack on McCarthy yesterday with an assertion that "we need less headline hunters and more Eisenhower backers for the good of America."

With what some lawmakers surmised was White House assent, Stassen asserted McCarthy had made a "legion of false statements" in a Senate speech Wednesday in which the Wisconsin senator said it was "criminal folly" to continue to give financial aid to allies who ship goods to Red China. Stassen wouldn't say if the issue was discussed in his meeting with President Eisenhower yesterday.

Used Strong Terms

Stassen used strong terms at a news conference in spite of what an influential Republican senator said was his advice to the White House: Let McCarthy's row with Secretary of the Army Stevens run its course without unnecessarily fanning further the flame of party disunity.

The GOP senator, regarded as one of Eisenhower's staunchest supporters, declined use of his name but told an interviewer of his counsel to White House officials.

"I just reminded them," he said, "that McCarthy is going to be a senator for three and a half years more and there will be a lot of occasions around here when we may need Republican votes."

Stassen, whose agency faces rough going in Congress on its $1½ billion dollar new foreign aid request, made clear yesterday he does not expect to find McCarthy among those voting "aye."

Despise Secrecy Order

McCarthy and Eisenhower are at odds over a presidential order cutting off testimony about a high-level administration conference at which the Army's dealings with McCarthy and his aides were discussed. Eisenhower issued his ban on grounds the Constitution requires separation of the executive and legislative branches of government, and he said the order was aimed at keeping the televised Senate investigation of the dispute "on

Dr. Pantera To Begin County Duties June 15

LISBON — "I am confident that with your cooperation . . . every goal to which we dedicate ourselves will become a reality."

These were the optimistic words sent to the County Health Department this week by the new health commissioner, Dr. George B. Pantera of Buffalo, N.Y. He was hired Monday night.

The Edward J. Meyer Memorial Hospital staff member will be here June 2 to sign the $10,000 per year contract with the County Health Board.

He has requested the board to grant him permission to attend a week - long medical orientation course to be given by the Ohio Department of Health starting June 7. He will then return to Columbiana County to begin his duties June 15.

The 44-year-old doctor, who received his medical degree from Georgetown University at Washington, D.C., is licensed to practice in New York, West Virginia and Ohio, according to health board member Howard Cole of Lisbon.

The employment of the full-time health doctor makes the county eligible to receive $5,300 in federal grants for the fiscal year starting July 1.

House Group Okays Increase In Social Security Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's program for a bigger and more liberal social security system was almost ready today for House consideration.

Members of the House Ways and Means Committee predicted their group would approve the legislation next week after a couple of finishing touches. The committee has been taking up the Eisenhower program on an item-by-item basis.

Late yesterday, the committee approved all of the President's requests for higher benefits, and in a few cases added some of its own.

It also approved—over the opposition of most committee Republicans—the President's plan to raise from $3,600 to $4,200 the maximum annual income on which benefits are based and taxes are levied.

That left only two substantial items still to be acted upon: a proposal to extend coverage to farm laborers, and a plan to give disabled workers full benefits.

The committee already had accepted Eisenhower's request to extend social security coverage to doctors, lawyers and other professionals, to farm operators, ministers, state and local government employees and various smaller groups.

If the bill becomes law, the system, now covering some 70 million workers and paying benefits to 6 million persons, would blanket almost the entire working force of the nation.

The social security system provides monthly payments to workers and their families on retirement or to their survivors. Both workers and their employers pay special taxes into a trust fund from which benefits are paid.

Although some parts of the program are controversial, little opposition to the over-all bill is expected in the House.

Boosts Monthly Payments

The new benefit structure would boost the minimum monthly payment for a single retired worker from $25 to $30, and the maximum from $85 to $98.50. The minimum for a retired worker and his wife—if she is 65 or over—would rise from $37.50 to $45; the maximum from $127.50 to $147.75.

Even bigger increases would be provided for those retiring after the new $4,200 base takes effect next year. The maximum monthly payment would be $108.50 for a single worker and $162.50 for a worker and his wife.

The new $4,200 base also would increase taxes by $12 a year for those making that much or more.

Insured workers' survivors would get similar increases, with the monthly minimum for a family rising from $18.75 to $30 and the maximum from $168.75 to $200. Eisenhower had proposed a family ceiling of $190, but the committee went $10 higher.

Benefits are based on average monthly wages under the system.

Ike's Request To Lower Voting Age Is Beaten

Southern Democrats Kill Constitutional Amendment Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's request to lower the voting age from 21 to 18 years was doomed for this session of Congress today by a solid line of 24 Democratic senators.

The minority party members—mostly Southerners—killed the proposed constitutional amendment in the Senate late yesterday when supporters were able to round up only 34 votes. That fell far short of the two-to-one majority required to approve the constitutional change and send it to the house for a similar test.

While Eisenhower's request was also pending in the House it was believed futile for that body to even consider the amendment at this session after the senate turn-down.

No GOP Opposition

Not a Republican opposed the amendment in yesterday's record vote although two, Hugh Butler of Nebraska and Malone of Nevada, were paired against it. Only seven of the 47 Democrats voted for it, while seven others were paired in its favor.

It was the second recent setback for an Eisenhower legislative proposal by the Senate. Democrats earlier were chiefly responsible for shelving, 50 to 42, Eisenhower's request for changes in the Taft-Hartley Labor Law.

Opponents of the proposed constitutional change were led by Sen. Russell (D-Ga.), who bitterly assailed it as "an implied insult" to governors and legislatures of all the 48 states.

Russell's home state of Georgia now is the only one that permits 18-year olds to vote. Although the Georgia senator said he is not opposed to an 18-year-old vote as such, he said the decision should be left up to each state individually.

Backed By Langer

Chairman Langer (R-ND) of the Senate Judiciary Committee, who has often sided against Eisenhower on other matters, this time teamed with Republican Leader Knowland (Calif.) and Republican Sens. Dirksen (Ill.) and Ferguson (Mich.) in speaking for the lower voting age.

Both Knowland and Langer predicted Congress eventually will approve an 18-year-old minimum for voters—a change that has been proposed in Congress for years. All states except Georgia now set the legal age at 21.

Knowland replied to Russell's states' rights argument by saying that each of the states must pass upon any constitutional amendment. He said that was because approval of three-fourths, or 36, of the states is necessary before a constitutional change can take effect.

Russell and other opponents stressed that 37 states had considered and rejected proposals to lower the voting age.

In asking for the amendment in his State of the Union message last January, Eisenhower said:

"For years our citizens between the ages of 18 and 21 have, in time of peril, been summoned to fight for America. They should participate in the political process that produces this fateful summons."

Armadillos, Python, Platypuses Make News In Animal World

NEW YORK (AP)—Here's the latest on animals in the news: Soft-hearted zoo-men go for hard-shelled armadillos; sore-armed dancer picks python over puma; duck-billed Cecil re-woos Penelope the platypus.

At Riverhead N. Y., Sidney Schwartz complained Thursday he was up to his ears in armadillos. Two lady armadillos, which he bought in order to write a thesis on their birth habits for a New York University doctorate, produced seven armor-plated babies.

Armadillos habitually sleep during daylight hours and whomp it up at night. And they eat like hogs, not armadillos. Schwartz said local zoos and dealers wouldn't take the mothers and sighed hopefully: "There must be somebody who likes armadillos."

Well, there is. Yesterday in Toronto, Can., the Riverdale Zoo said they'd adopt an armadillo. And Ar-

State To Buy Area Property For Fishing, Hunting Resort

R. L. Lide, Columbiana County game warden, announced today that the state has taken an option to buy the Zepernick Lake property on Route 172, near New Alexandria for $35,000.

Final arrangements have been completed and the contract will be consummated following approval of the State Board of Controls, Lide said.

The 225 acre tract, which contains the 35 acre lake, will be improved and stocked for the benefit of fishermen and hunters, the game warden stated.

Lide was informed of the state's decision by Dr. Charles Dambaugh, chief of the Ohio Division of Wildlife, at a District 3 meeting held yesterday in Akron. Lide originally submitted the proposed project to the state under its land acquisition program.

Lide said 75 per cent of the purchase price will be borne by the federal government under the Dingle-Johnson Act. The state will provide the balance of the funds.

Present owners of the property, Fred and George Zepernick, stipulated that the present name of the lake be unchanged. They also retained five acres of the land, where they will continue to live. However, Lide said, the state has an option to purchase the remaining acres if the Zepernicks decide to sell.

The main feature of the "Old Timers Night" was the introduction of former teachers in the Knox Local School, whose teaching careers dated back to 1908. The guests were Dr. and Mrs. Warren E. Unger, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stanley, Mr. and Mrs. Klopfenstein, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Haldi, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Braid, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scott, Mrs. Walter Scott, Mrs. Warren Scott, and County Superintendent James L. McBride.

Dr. Unger gave the address of the evening, "The Building of a Sound Moral Character." Ronald Dolsen and Dale Weizenecker, coaches of the Knox athletic team, presented awards to the following groups:

Basketball teams for grades 8, 7 and 6; cheerleaders, cafeteria workers, student council members, bus patrol, track team, spelling champions, and the Future Teachers of America.

The 1954 eighth grade presented to the Knox School cooks, Mrs. Lester Ramsayer and Mrs. Harold Soffer, novel casserole table warmers.

Carol Berger entertained with several accordion selections during the evening. Atlee Freshley, president of the Homeworth Lions Club, presented the Knox Local School visual aid equipment for testing vision and a new audiometer for testing hearing ability. Superintendent John Pickens accepted the gifts for the school. John Pimpe, custodian of the school, made the eye testing equipment for the club.

Rev. Raymond Risden and Rev. Donald McGarragh gave the blessing and benediction. Teachers served the meal, assisted by husbands of the cafeteria staff. Table decorations and seating arrangements were in charge of Mr. and Mrs. William Haymaker. Mrs. Haymaker, school secretary, decorated the tables in school colors and floral arrangements.

Mr. Pickens served as general chairman. Approximately 150 students were honored.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A 15-year-old boy was convicted of first degree murder yesterday in the slaying of a teen-age girl. A Circuit Court jury set his penalty at life imprisonment.

The boy, Jesse Ray, was charged with slaying 12-year-old Mynette Foster here last Feb. 8. The girl's body was found near her home here with 10 stab wounds and a broken neck.

Saboteurs Tried To Destroy Load Of Munitions

Charge U.S. Spreads Alarmist Reports On Red Arms Shipments

GUATEMALA (AP)—Guatemala said last night saboteurs blasted a rail line in an attempt to blow up a munitions train. The announcement came as the government heatedly charged the United States with spreading alarmist reports about arms arriving here from Iron Curtain countries.

Interior Minister August Charnaud MacDonald said the explosion occurred Wednesday, killing a civilian and a soldier and injuring three other soldiers.

The saboteurs fought a gun battle with federal troops, he said, and then fled into the hills near the Honduran border. The arms shipment, moving to Guatemala City from Puerto Barrios on the east coast, was unharmed, he said.

State Dept. Worried

(The U. S. State Department, voicing concern over increasing Red influence in Guatemala's leftist government, notified other Latin American countries last Monday that the Swedish ship Alphen was unloading a shipment of arms from Communist Poland at Puerto Barrios. Some Washington officials estimated the value of the arms at 10 million dollars. The State Department said they were loaded at Stettin, a former German port now in Poland.)

Charnaud said he believed Guatemalan political refugees in neighboring Honduras took part in the plot.

32 Charges Placed

The gang placed about 32 one-pound powder charges but only two went off.

The government did not identify the civilian victim of the blast. It was believed, however, that he was one of the plotters.

The Foreign Ministry issued a communique yesterday accusing the United States of spreading "malicious and unjustified" reports about arms purchases from the Communists.

The statement denied Guatemala had received any guns made in Russia or Poland and added it was no concern of the United States if it had.

Charge U.S. Ships Arms

The statement said also U. S. guns were going to several governments which have an "unfriendly and aggressive" attitude toward Guatemala.

The statement declared, also, the United States had committed an "act of aggression" against Guatemala by trying to "wear down the defensive capacity of the Guatemalan army through an arms boycott."

In Washington, observers pointed out that, although Guatemala had denied receiving arms made in Russia or Poland, she had not denied getting them from other Iron Curtain countries.

AP News Analyst Tells Of Battle For Asia

The Battle for Asia . . . That's the battle both military and psychological, going on today from India to Indonesia. Indochina is virtually in the grasp of the Communists. What are the prospects for the other countries?

William L. Ryan, AP foreign news analyst, determined to find out. In six weeks in that area he has talked with scores of political leaders and others. He has viewed the Communist propaganda campaigns in these countries against the background of his wide study of the communist movement, both inside and outside Russia.

The afternoon session consisted of a dramatic presentation by the Luther League of Greenford Lutheran Church on the theme, "Introducing My Best Friend." The delegates were divided into groups which discussed the subject of personal evangelism in relation to the confession of the Christian Faith.

Discussion leaders from Holy Trinity Lutheran Church were Mrs. Ward Zeller, Mrs. George Schmid, Olin Muntz and Tom Pike.

At the business session the following were elected officers: President - Barbara McMahon; vice president, Roy Nichols; secretary - treasurer, Carol Cairns; pastoral advisor, Rev. William Calvert of North Industry and lay advisor, Clarence Barger.

Greetings were presented from Rev. Richard W. Powell of Columbus, director of christian education and youth work of the Synod of Ohio.

The supper was served at the Memorial Building in charge of Mrs. James Fife, Mrs. Glenn Whitehill, Mrs. Wade Schaefer, Mrs. William Bailey, Mrs. John Bailey, Mrs. John Jurczak, and Mrs. C. W. Youtz. The table committee was comprised of Jerry Martin, Pat Fife and Nancy Fife.

The registration committee was comprised of Patty Jurczak, Carolyn Hartman and Ann Hansteen. Ushers and welcome committee members were Jack Bailey, David Platt, William Windle, James Auman, Charles Dahms, John Kehler Jr., Jeanette and Patsy Harris, Jane Myers and Marjorie Meier. Miss Violet Nye led in the inspiration with Miss Ruth Hoch as accompanist.

The vespers service was conducted by Rev. George D. Keister. The sermon "Being a Friend" was preached by Rev. Willard I. Hackenberg, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church in Canton. The special anthem was sung by the Youth Choir of North Industry Lutheran Church. Rev. Keister conducted the installation service for the new officers.

Nazarene Groups Meet In Salem

All churches of the Salem Zone of the Akron District of the Churches of the Nazarene were represented at the Tuesday afternoon and evening meeting in the Salem church. Various churches of the Warren zone also were present.

Mrs. E. M. Parks, wife of the local pastor, taught two classes in the workshop conducted during the day. Besides the classes on publicity and mission study work, Mrs. Parks was in charge of the music for the day. The Salem woman will teach at three similar workshops — June 1 at New Philadelphia; June 3 at Toronto and June 5 at Barnesville.

Alliance, Sebring, Columbiana, East Palestine, Lisbon, Power Point and Salem church women, with others from the Warren and Young-town churches, were present for the afternoon meeting and more than 200 attended the evening service.

Mrs. C. S. Jenkins, missionary from Africa, was speaker for both services. Mrs. Theodore Thorne and Mrs. Roy Shoff sang "Let Me Lose Myself and Let Me Find It Lord in Thee." Pictures of Bolivia missions were shown in the evening.

The theme of the meeting was "Work in New Guinea" and all the churches will start this mission study with a special observance here June 20.

Mrs. Mildred Prather of Akron was workshop director. Mrs. D. D. Palmer of Canton, district president, the former Myra Litty of Salem, with her husband, Rev. Palmer, workshop teacher, were present. Mrs. Clarence Haas of Warren and Mrs. Opal Ireland of Barber-ton, also taught classes.

The next meeting of the local women will be Tuesday, June 1.

Confident Living

By DR. NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Don't Try To Escape Difficulty

I had a peculiar experience recently. I made a speech at a convention and had to hurry away before the meeting ended to catch a train. On the way out a man stopped me. "I have to talk to you," he said.

"I'm sorry, but it will be on the run," I told him. "My train leaves in fifteen minutes."

There was no taxi in sight; so we started to walk toward the station.

"Can you talk fast?" I asked my companion.

He thought he could. "I am dissatisfied with my present situation," he explained. "I want to get out of it."

"Why," I asked. "Aren't you doing well?"

"Last year I made ten thousand dollars," he answered.

"That's a good income. Why do you want to leave a $10,000 a year job?"

"There's something else I like better. I often go out to the airport and watch the planes take off and land. I'd love to work with airplanes."

"WELL," I REPLIED, "if there is anything you want to do, if you want it badly enough and are willing to make the necessary sacrifices, you can do it."

"I've written to the airline presidents asking for an executive job," he told me, "but they don't even answer me."

"Perhaps you ought to start at a more realistic level. Why not go out to the airport and ask for a job carrying baggage back and forth to the planes?"

"I don't want to carry baggage!" he protested.

"Then perhaps you would be better off sticking to what you're doing. But, if you became the best luggage carrier an airline ever had, perhaps you could work your way up."

"That's not the way I want to do it," he said, and added, "there is something else I would like to do. I've always loved birds. I like to study birds and write a book about them."

"What's stopping you? You can study them after you come home at night from your ten thousand dollar job and on weekends," I suggested.

Please note that the two things this man wanted both had wings: airplanes and birds. Of course, what he really wanted was to fly away, to escape from responsibility. People are prone to run away from situations in which things become a bit difficult.

HE FINALLY ADMITTED that his personal situation had become intolerable because of constant minor irritations.

We had finally reached the station and I had time only to say, "We cannot live in a world where there is no difficulty. But Almighty God has given us manhood and strength and character and the assurance of His presence. So if we just stand up to our problems, we can solve them right where we are. Don't retreat into day-dreams about flying away when things get a little rough. That's the time to think positively and constructively. Difficulty is a challenge, and challenges met and solved make men of us."

I advised him to sit down with paper and pencil at the end of each day and list every right experience he had during the day. Then he was to read the list to himself aloud. "You will find this a catharsis of the mind," I promised him. "You will flush out every frustration, every disappointment, every hurt, every irritation."

"And more important, you will discover that more things have gone right than have gone wrong. As you change your mental attitude toward your situation, the situation will itself change for the better."

I am glad to report that he followed this suggestion and no longer wants to fly away.

LEFT ALONE?

Two little girls left alone! It sounds like the beginning of a sad story.

But look again. There are certainly no tears. There is a comfortable home; and pretty clothes.

But these children have been given a great deal more than the ordinary comforts of life. There in the older child's hand is a book, "The Story of Jesus."

How reassuring to see that they have been given the advantages of a Christian training. Somehow all doubt has been removed from our minds. We feel that these little girls will be safe—not only during this one evening, but through their entire lives.

All of us want our children to be shielded from life's hardships and temptations, but we can guarantee no such protection. Our surest course is that we rear them in a Christian atmosphere, sending them to Daily Vacation Church School and taking them to the services of the Church regularly. Then, and then only, will we know that we have done everything in our power for their future success, happiness and salvation.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

A Sense Of Spelling

William Cashore, 14, newest of the National Spelling Bee champions, freely admitted after he spelled "uncinated" and "transept" to clinch the title that he had been lucky.

"Uncinated" was not in his vocabulary. He had to take a guess at it, after William Kelley, the runner-up, spelled it "unsinate." Moreover, the champion said, other contestants had been spelled down on words he couldn't have spelled.

This has become the annual story of the final round in the National Spelling Bee - that its finalists cannot be eliminated without resort to trick words. They know all the common words.

This was the goal of the National Spelling Bee. It is why newspapers have been enthusiastic about the contest. It has improved the everyday spelling of millions of children and given them a wider appreciation of the English language. And it has brought to light a select group of boys and girls with a phenomenal sense of spelling - geniuses who can spell words like misceable, ichthyology, littoral, neologism and leprechaun. Could you have spelled them?

The News' entrant in the bee, Corinne Adams of Columbiana, was the 23rd of the 56 contestants who stumbled on similar words. But although she didn't win the national event, she has every right to be proud of the spelling sense that carried her within sight of the championship. Congratulations, Corinne.

Ireland's Benevolent Dictator

Eamon de Valera's failure to command a majority in the Irish election last Tuesday may be the end of the trail for the unusual man who has been Eire's "benevolent dictator" for 19 of the last 22 years.

At the age of 71 and nearly blind, de Valera is unlikely to make a comeback. Time is running out on the political leader who has ranged first ever since he was sentenced to death by Great Britain for his part in the Easter rebellion of 1916.

De Valera was reprieved, released, resented and elected president of the new Irish republic while still in jail. He escaped, came back to the United States, where he had been born in 1882, sold bonds to aid Irish independence, fought the Irish treaty by which Britain tried to give Ireland dominion status and resigned his presidency of the republic over the issue.

In 1924 he established his own political party - the Men of Restiny (Fianna Fail) - and three years later led it into the Irish Free State parliament. He was elected prime minister in 1937 and had been president of the executive council since 1932. In 1948 he was defeated in a special election similar to the one held this year and a coalition led by John A. Costello ran the government for three years.

That was the key issue this year - whether or not de Valera should be continued as the head of a one-party government, or whether Eire again should be governed by a coalition, presumably to be led again by Costello.

Chronic Mavericks

The case being built up by the Cleveland police department against a 25-year-old former convict being held in connection with the brutal beating of a four-year-old child reflects a grim flow in our existing structure of public protection.

The suspect has a long record of trouble, beginning with an arrest for stealing an automobile when he was only eight years old. Cleveland police, with an eye on his proclivity for crimes of violence in connection with sex, are questioning him closely for clues to the city's unsolved cases of assault and disappearance.

The prisoner had been jailed and released. He was known to many persons in his neighborhood as a potentially dangerous character; information leading to his arrest was provided by a person who knew his bad record. Yet, he was under no more official restraint than if he had been a normal person.

Except for accidental circumstances, he might never have been arrested in connection with the most recent case in which he will be the defendant. It is a story repeated endlessly in the United States - the story of the chronic maverick who must be permitted to run at large until he finally commits the unforgivable crime which causes society to protect itself after irreparable damage has been done to one of its innocent members.

According to a judge, it's no crime to loaf. How come so many people are in jail for taking things easy?

A scientist says that in 50 years we'll have nothing to laugh at. We disagree - there still will be the comics.

An Ohio woman dropped a $20 bill on the sidewalk and a crow flew away with it. She could have bought about $10 worth of groceries with the money.

Incomplete Text Puts Eisenhower In Bad Light

Relations between Great Britain and the United States have been difficult enough in recent weeks, so it is a matter of chagrin to note the incomplete reporting which has put President Eisenhower in the position of wanting to do something important in world policy without the cooperation of the London government.

The way some of the dispatches - which were printed widely in France and Britain - read, the President had told his press conference that America was going ahead with the Southeast Asia pact without Great Britain. There was an implication also that Eisenhower deliberately chose to put out this very explosive piece of information at this time.

Europeans, of course, naturally attach significance to the motive of an American president in issuing information on the relations with an important ally which makes big headlines.

What are the facts of the episode? The American delegation to the Geneva Conference gets a verbatim report on what the President says at his press conference.

THE PRESIDENT'S own words cannot be quoted in the first person, but a paraphrase in the third person is permitted.

Here is the exact way in which the question arose and the way it was answered, and anybody can see the context in which the President replied to questions:

A reporter for the Chicago Tribune asked, "Can you say what you think the prospects are of Great Britain joining in the Southeast Asia pact?"

The President replied with a negative and said he couldn't because he didn't know.

Then the reporter asked, "Do you think we could build an effective pact there without Great Britain's support?"

Mr. Eisenhower answered that, after all, the reporters must remember that Australia and New Zealand are the countries of the British Commonwealth of Nations that are directly involved.

The President added that, with the proper Asian nations - which, of course, he lays down as a prerequisite condition - and Australia and New Zealand, the United States might possibly work out something that would be maybe not as satisfactory or as broad as one would like it, but it would be, could be, workable.

Now that is a far cry from any defiant note which some headlines in Britain and France reflected. Nor is it a flat statement all by itself that the United States wanted to build a Southeast Asia pact without Britain.

The impression conveyed by the newspaper treatment was that Eisenhower was somehow petulantly expressing his disapproval of Great Britain's hesitant course and that America was going ahead anyhow.

THE WORDS of the press conference, which are taken down stenographically and given out to the newspapermen in Washington for their guidance in making an accurate paraphrase, would have read better if first-person quotation in this instance had been authorized.

The reports would have been more serviceable to the cause of good relations had they reflected the spirit of the President's reply. By his first answer, he was plainly saying he didn't know what the prospects were, and this can readily be interpreted as meaning he still has hope of British participation.

As for the answer to the second question, Eisenhower was really trying in a way to point out that, even if the United Kingdom could not come in, Australia and New Zealand would be representative of the interests of the British Commonwealth of Nations.

There was here an evident desire to draw closer to rather than away from Britain.

Certainly the President wasn't closing the door.

Actually, the question asked of the President as to going along without the British might better not have been answered, because it was hypothetical and the British government itself has never said publicly anything to give the impression it would never join the Southeast Asia security pact.

ON THE CONTRARY, it has said it hesitates to join the project while the Geneva Conference is in session.

British diplomacy is steering a cautious course at Geneva, and there are many irritations about it on the American side.

The interjection of a big headline about the President's supposed willingness to go ahead without Great Britain was hardly a constructive addition to the cause of good will.

What Is Education

By TRUMAN TWILL

Possibly the most electrifying event in U. S. education in 1954 will be the way a pretty refugee from the Soviet zone of Germany knocked off a diploma in the University of Illinois in one year. Her name is Edith Maria Binde. She is 20. Besides being smart, she has qualified as a campus beauty queen.

Here is a story so old it's new - the story of the foreigner who really wants to get educated and upsets all the procedures which have been set up to take care of the native multitudes who have neither the aptitude nor the desire to be outstanding.

Edith Maria is one of thousands of foreign students who have gone through U. S. schools in whirlwind fashion because they had what most homegrown students lack - a powerful incentive to make the most of their opportunity.

To be sure, she did not qualify for her University of Illinois degree in a single year by boning up on that much information after she enrolled in the university. She already had most of it in her head when she enrolled. A series of examinations disclosed she was within a few flourishes of qualifying for graduation before she had begun to study.

Many American schools have had similar experiences with foreigners. Boys and girls whose counterparts here would still be lip-reading in their own language lead to speak English better than their teachers in short order besides knowing how to speak and write their native tongues.

Because they feel a compulsion to make up some of the ground they have lost by being forced out of their native lands, they rush through the relatively easy American educational routine by leaps and bounds, putting to shame most of the boys and girls who were born with tiny American flags clutched in their fists.

This has become a common occurrence. It has made many a school teacher thoughtful. What could teachers do to homegrown pupils to give them the same eagerness to learn?

Would there be any limit to the possibilities of uplifting a democratic society through free education if all students could be persuaded to try to the best of their ability, instead of resisting their teachers, their school administrators and the general idea of going as far as their native talents can carry them?

One night last winter I was part of an audience addressed for more than an hour by a native of Liberia who had decided no sacrifice was too great for an education. He had been enrolled for one semester in a small college in this country and was willing to use an evening of his time to tell some of the parents in our rural school district about his native land.

It was evident after the first five minutes that we were in the presence of a cultured person. His English was better than ours, and so was his background of general information about the world. Yet he cheerfully acknowledged that his father and mother could neither read nor write and that he, himself, would have been an illiterate if he had not decided that education was worth the effort.

Is it that simple? Have most Americans decided that education isn't worth the effort because most of them can get by without it. Is education, after all, a state of mind instead of a course of study?

The Segregation Ruling

By RAYMOND MOLEY

The reasoning of the Supreme Court in deciding the school segregation case as closely follows that of the late Chief Justice Vinson in the case, some time ago, which concerned the two state-supported law schools in Texas. In seeking to comply with the law requiring "separate but equal" educational facilities, the State of Texas established a law school in Houston for Negroes and sought to provide physical accommodations and instruction equal to that provided in the school for white students in Austin.

In the opinion for the majority of the court, the chief justice said, in effect, that, even if the teachers were as learned and skillful, the buildings and furnishings identical, and the library just as voluminous, there would not be true equality because in the training of a lawyer much depends on the associations he has in school.

IN SHORT, that since all must practice in the same courts, live in the same communities, and deal with the same people, to separate the races while in the process of education would place a handicap upon the Negroes. This was the case of Sweatt vs. Painter.

The decision in the present case applies a similar intangible value in all indications. It says that "our decision . . . cannot turn upon merely a comparison of these tangible factors in the Negro and the white schools . . . we must look instead to the effect of segregation itself upon public education."

Then it proceeds to say in effect that an education which leaves those who share it with "A feeling of inferiority . . . that may affect their minds and hearts" may never be overcome in the world beyond school.

The point can be fairly made that this decision points to a subjective or intangible inequality against which government must protect people. Therefore, if the states do not protect Negroes against that sort of inequality, they are denying them "equal protection of the laws."

THE SEPARATE decision of the court in the District of Columbia case further underlines the intangibles in its discussion of "liberty under law," which, it says, "is not confined to mere freedom from bodily restraint." It "extends to the full range of conduct which the individual is free to pursue."

The decision by bringing in these intangibles is following a line which has been creeping into law and judicial decision for a long time. It is the introduction of sociological concepts which in the nature of things lack the clarity of traditional law.

Perhaps this means a broadening of horizons and "keeping in tune with the times," but it introduces subject matter which is difficult to limit and define.

Southerners close to the realities may well answer that, since the Supreme Court has decided to prohibit an imposition of subjective inequality, there can be offered in its stead only subjective equality. No law can provide that, nor can the ministrations of the best-intentioned of governments make the equality real.

TRUE EQUALITY must be earned. That now imposes upon those who greet this decision as a new emancipation a grave and difficult problem.

A thousand adjustments must be made to comply with this decision, and members of the court probably secured unanimity only by agreeing to give plenty of time to effectuate and implement this new law.

In making those adjustments, the South should be given wide latitude to move in accordance with the realities.

It will serve only ill purposes for the North, who know this problem only through theory, hearsay, and sentiment, to offer advice.

Congress Started Red Drive

By JAY G. HAYDEN

By moving to bar Communist dominated unions from all governmental protections and benefits Attorney General Brownell is seeking to complete a job begun when the 80th (Republican) Congress imposed in 1947 the requirement that top union officials swear they were not Communists.

That first stab at weeding Communists out of organized labor was not in itself very successful. It could be avoided by the simple process of quitting the Communist party one day and rejoining the next. Only four labor chieftains were found guilty of falsely swearing that they were not Communists and one of those excepted through reversal by a higher court.

But the multitude of investigations launched by the National Labor Relations Board and congressional committees in connection with the anti-Communist oath supplied the evidence on which labor unions have gone a long way toward ridding themselves of Communists.

Compared with a membership estimated at 600,000 at the time the Taft-Hartley anti-Communist oath was established, Communist-tainted unions today are credited with something less than 250,000.

THE CIO, which harbored most of the Communist unions, engineered the bulk of this clean-out. Quite a few important international unions in that organization were thrown out bodily in 1949 and 1950, and while several of these still are in existence their prestige and membership has declined.

An exception to this rule may be the West Coast International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, headed by Harry Bridges, which still claims about 71,000 members. Also Bridges has lately extended protection to the Union of Marine Cooks and Stewards with seeming effect of saving it from extinction by AFL competitors. Bridges' domination of labor unions in Hawaii is one reason why Congress is withholding statehood from that territory.

Again and again in the last 20 years the federal government has appeared to have Bridges on the way to deportation to his native Australia, but always he has wriggled out of that fate.

The biggest loss to Communism, as a result of CIO expulsion, easily is in the electrical trade.

There were few unions in the country stronger than the United Electrical Workers up to the time the CIO threw it out and instituted the rival International Union of Electrical Workers.

THE BIG BREAK came two months ago when United's Local 301, comprising the main plant of at Schneectady, voted to transfer to the international union under leadership of Leo Jandreau, former business agent of Local UEW still claims 200,000 members, but its dues-paying total probably is less than half that figure.

Recently, Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, associate director of the Ford Foundation, decline an annual award for "Defense of Intellectual Freedom" tendered by the New York Teachers' Union. The obvious reason for this refusal was that the Teachers' Union formerly was an affiliate of the United Public Workers, another organization ousted by the CIO on the ground that it was Communist dominated.

The Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, numbering more than 100,000 before expulsion from the CIO, is said to muster fewer than 70,000 today. A key local of that organization in Butte, Mont., bolted to the CIO United Steel Workers a few weeks ago.

Under the Brownell proposal the first step would be an investigation by a subversive activity control board. If a union was found to be Communist dominated these rules would apply.

No employer would be required to bargain collectively with the condemned organization.

THE UNION SHOP and all other stipulations of employment contracts favorable to the union would be legally nullified.

It would be an unfair labor practice for an employer to discriminate in regard to hiring, tenure or employment or any other condition, in favor of members of the proscribed union.

The union would be denied access to the National Labor Relations Board.

In pursuance of his earlier objection to making Communist membership a crime per se, Brownell does not propose that mere membership in a Communist-infiltrated labor union should be labeled a crime.

Rather, his bill aims to encourage members of such organizations to transfer to non-Communist groups by insuring that their established rights under union shop agreements and pension plans would move with them to the new union affiliation.

Take The Wife Abroad

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—If you are planning to go abroad this summer, why not take along something useful? Your wife, for example.

A good sound wife can often perform invaluable services that more than make up for the cost of her passage. She makes a fine talking crutch to lean on in those little emergencies that leave a man helpless.

"Women really do stand up better under travel than men, generally speaking," said Horace Sutton, who has written seven books for footloose folk and armchair tourists.

But this isn't necessarily because husbands are like some fine French wines, too delicate for far journeys, or because wives are like bottled ketchup, durable in any climate.

"I think the real reason is that a man usually goes on a trip for a rest," said Sutton. "He starts tired. But his wife is looking for fun, and she starts fresh and strong."

Under these circumstances a man often becomes short-tempered at travel hardships, whereas a woman, accustomed to getting her own way under all conditions, can evaporate most difficulties with her firm charm.

"A husband will do well to take his wife on his travels, even business trips abroad," said Sutton, "because through her he will be paid more attention."

To get material for his latest book, "Sutton's Places," he tripped 100,000 miles through some 20 states and 25 foreign countries, ranging from Finland to Japan. Whenever possible he took his wife, Nancy along.

"She travels better than I do," he admitted manfully. "Wore me down on a hike through a snowfield in the Arctic Circle. On a mountain peak in Switzerland she skipped and danced around. I was its rails," not at hindering it. Stevens then said charges against McCarthy came from the Army and not higher up.

McCarthy, who has voiced the opinion that Eisenhower was acting without full knowledge of the situation, criticized the order again last night at a Chicago plane stop on his way to Wisconsin. He termed it "peculiar" because Eisenhower "wants the public to have all the facts—except those on the one meeting."

He said the Senate hearings are causing the Republican party's "slow and painful suicide before the television cameras." He refused to disclose what course he would adopt when the hearings resume Monday, however, saying he would not discuss the matter until a speech he is scheduled to make tonight before the Fort Atkinson, Wis., Chamber of Commerce.

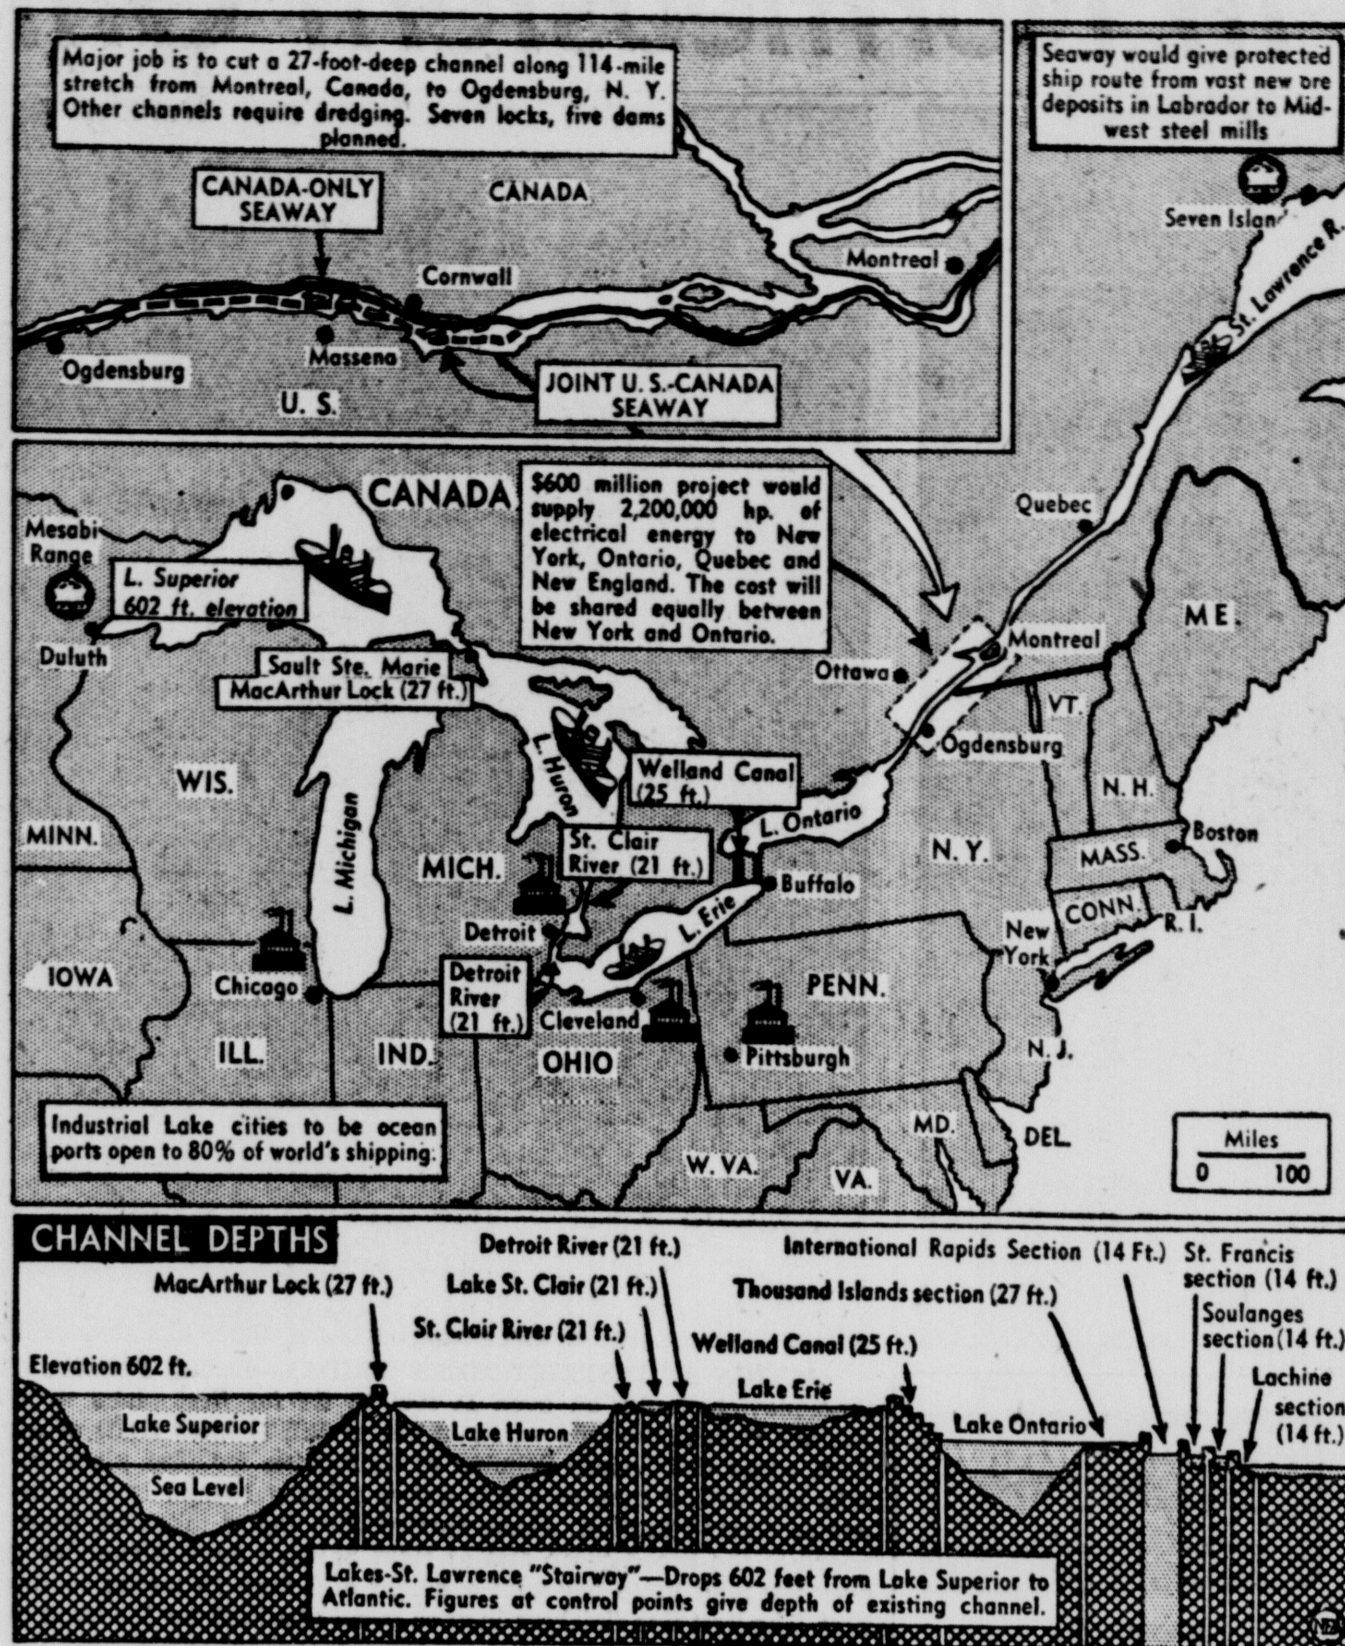

Later, at Sturgeon Bay, Wis., McCarthy said "I will not attack Ike" at Fort Atkinson for what he termed the President's "Iron Curtain" order. But the senator said again he thought Eisenhower was acting on bad advice.

McCarthy also said if the hearings continue next week he would like to have subpoenaed for testimony five newsmen — Homer Bigart, New York Herald Tribune; columnist Joseph Alsop; Phil Potter, Baltimore Sun, and Murray Marder and Al Friendly, both of the Washington Post.

Army Counselor John G. Adams has testified he talked to these newsmen about alleged improper pressures from McCarthy's office before the Army charges became public. Adams said he gave the information to the newsmen in confidence and they did not violate his trust.

Great Lakes 'Gateway' To The Atlantic

When President Eisenhower signed the St. Lawrence Seaway bill, a 50-year debate ended, and a dream became a reality. After completion the Seaway will link the large port cities on the Great Lakes with the Atlantic Ocean. Major project at present will be to cut a 27-foot-deep channel from Ogdensburg, N.Y., to Montreal, Canada, shown in detail upper left. The next project will be to enlarge and deepen all waterways west of Detroit, so that ocean-going vessels can travel between the Atlantic Ocean and the Mesabi Range in Minnesota. The Seaway is expected to play an important part in the defense plans of both the U. S. and Canada, and is expected to fill the Midwest steel mills' need for new supplies of iron ore from the Quebec-Labrador fields. Varying water levels of the canals and lakes along the waterway are shown in chart at bottom.

Miles City, Mont., yesterday declined direct comment on the controversy but said "the President has given me all the backing that I could have asked." He said the answer was "a strong no" to questions as to whether he was sorry he had gone to Washington and whether he would resign.

Stevens has charged McCarthy and his aides sought favored Army treatment for Pvt. G. David Schine, a former unpaid consultant to the Senate Investigations subcommittee headed by the senator. McCarthy countered that Stevens and his assistants used Schine as a "hostage" in efforts

Young cracked a whip. The puma merely looked annoyed and seemed to toy with the idea of taking another bite out of his mistress' arm.

According to witnesses, a piece of lacy lingerie saved the day. Miss Young tossed the garment into the bathroom and the puma bounded after it. Miss Young slammed and locked the door. The cage was shoved in front of the door, the door was opened, and the puma raced into the cage. Thinking it over, Miss Young said, she guessed she'd stick to plain old pythons.

Now back to New York City and up to the Bronx Zoo. The "who's who" of the zoo, for several years, has featured Cecil and Penelope, the duck-billed platypuses.

The zoo has been trying to get the egg-laying, Australian-born animals together so they could raise a family.

Last summer, Penelope retired to her tunnel early, a sign of motherhood. Keepers pilled her with goodies and felt "this was it."

But Penelope was only fooling. It turned out she just liked goodies. But this is another spring, and Cecil is chummy with Penelope—who doesn't seem to mind at all.

Salem Wins 5th Place In Northeastern Ohio Class A Meet

Massillon, Glenn 'Jeep' Davis Of Barberton Share Honors; 9 Quakers Win State Berths

By SANDY HANSELL

The Massillon Tigers and Glenn "Jeep" Davis of Barberton, split top honors in the Northeastern Ohio Class "A" track meet Friday at Reilly Stadium.

The Tigers waltzed off with team honors while Davis thrilled the crowd with one of the most outstanding exhibitions ever staged on the local cinders. During the course of the day he won four first places, set one record and was awarded a beautiful trophy for his efforts after being unanimously voted the top athlete of the meet by officials and sportswriters.

The Quakers won the honor of going down into the books as one of the best Salem track squads in many years by netting 13½ points, good enough for fifth place, and qualifying nine men for the state finals next week at Columbus.

Dan Kendzierski took fourth in the shotput with a heave of 46' 10" while Jack Alexander tied for first in the high jump at 5-10. Captain Jerry Martin turned in the best time of his career, a 4:38.7 in the mile, to earn a third place for the second consecutive year.

The Salem 880-relay team with Dale Middeker running a beautiful anchor lap, earned a Columbus berth by tying with Warren for fifth.

And Herb Haschen ran a determined anchor lap for the mile relay outfit to earn the Quakers a third in that event. Other members of the squad were John Chester, Martin and Middeker.

All these boys will make the Columbus trip this week.

AS A WHOLE, the 2500 fans who sat in on the affair were treated to a fine showing of track and field performances, although the meet was bogged down by a bulky 41-team entry list. Two records were broken and one tied.

The big center of attraction was the fleet-footed speedster from Barberton.

Davis won the 100 in 10-flat, the 220 in 22.5, the broad jump with 21' 6½" and the low hurdles at 20.1, all outstanding marks. He broke the low hurdles record in the afternoon semi-finals, covering the distance in 19.5. The former high was set last year by Garfield's Alex Adams at 19.9.

In all, counting the prelims, semi-finals, and finals, Davis ran nine races along with his broad-jumping.

Little Willie Burr of Akron South barely nipped Davis in an afternoon semi-final heat in the 220, tying the record of 22.3 while doing it. However, the "Jeep" came back at night to edge Burr by a slim margin. A total of eight men shaded 22 seconds in the 220.

The other broken record went to Eugene Stefani of Warren, who hurled the discus 150' 10½", eclipsing the 15-year-old former mark by 2' 8½".

MASSILLON, paced by a pair of footballers, Homer Floyd and John Traylor, took the lead for the first time in the ninth event and won the meet going away, scoring in seven of the 14 events.

The Tigers have yet to lose a meet this year after winning all their dual and triangular meets, the Ashland Relays and the Canton Two-Light Relays. It marks coach Ellwood Kammer's first—and only—year as track coach at Massillon. He won't return next year.

Akron East was second, 4 2-5 points behind, while Barberton was third with 24 points with Davis doing all the scoring. Showing surprising strength, Hubbard nosed out Salem for fourth by a half-point, 14 to 13½.

In all, 25 teams broke into the scoring column.

Six Salem High School girls,

Indians Defeat Orioles 2-1

Wynn Hurls 5-Hitter For Fifth Victory

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians, now two full games ahead of the American League field, sent Mike Garcia to the mound today in a bid for another victory over the Baltimore Orioles. Don Larsen opposed him.

The high-flying Tribe widened the gap last night by trimming the Orioles 2-1, while the New York Yankees were losing to Boston 6-3. Chicago moved into second place with the Yanks on an 8-0 victory over Detroit.

Early Wynn was the big factor in Cleveland's eighth straight victory. He pitched a skillful five-hitter and never let a man past second base until the ninth when Dick Kryhoski homered for Baltimore's only run. It was Wynn's fifth victory against two losses. Cleveland got by with only three hits.

Al Rosen was unable to tie a record by hitting a seventh homer in six straight games, but he did knock in one of Cleveland's runs with a single. That kept his batting streak going with hits in 11 consecutive games. Al Smith accounted for the other Tribe run, also with a single.

The first run was scored off loser Duane Pillette in the third inning. George Strickland led off a single, Jim Hegan walked, Wynn forced Strickland at third in an attempted sacrifice, and Smith singled in Hegan.

In the eighth, Smith was hit by a pitched ball, advanced two more bases on a sacrifice and a long fly, and scored on Rosen's single off reliever Marlin Stuart.

Rookie Rudy Regalado failed to hit safely in three times at bat and dropped his batting average under .300 for the first time since the exhibition season.

Dave Philley robbed Bobby Young of a potential home run in the sixth inning with a spectacular field stand.

Cleveland's current winning streak is its longest since 1952 when the club won nine straight. In 1951 the Tribe won 13 in a row, tying a club record.

Garcia goes into today's game with three wins and four losses, while Larsen has a 1-3 record.

Officer Given 5 Years For Taking Bribes

CINCINNATI (AP) — Former Air Force Lt. Donald A. Krueger, 36, today was sentenced to five years' imprisonment and fined $25,000 for accepting bribes. Four persons convicted of giving Krueger bribes in connection with the purchase of war surplus materials were sentenced to prison within the last few weeks.

U.S. District Judge John H. Druffel denied a plea by Krueger's attorney, Larz Hammel, for a stay of sentence.

"Krueger knew a week ago that he was to be sentenced today," Druffel said. "He pleaded guilty to indictments charging conspiracy and accepting bribes some time ago."

"We must take into consideration the fact that he did help the government in convicting those who gave the bribes, which was the least he could do for his unbelievable crime, and there is nothing further I could say to add to his shame."

Krueger was disbursement officer for the sale of surplus government property at the General Electric plant in nearby Evendale. He pleaded guilty to accepting $19,700 from Earl M. and Melvin Greenbaum, Cincinnati brothers.

The Greenbaums were sentenced to five years' imprisonment and fined $5,000 each. They pleaded guilty.

Herman Krogmann and Emil Klaus, Cleveland foundry owners, then were convicted by a jury of bribing Krueger. Krogmann was sentenced to three years' imprisonment and fined $15,000. Klaus was sentenced to two years in prison and fined $4,500. They are free on $10,000 bond each pending appeal.

The Cleveland business men were accused of giving Krueger $5,000 to obtain favorable consideration in the sale of surplus government property at Oak Ridge, Tenn. Krogmann and Klaus said they loaned the money to the former air officer.

North Georgetown Festival Planned

NORTH GEORGETOWN — When the fireman's auxiliary met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Ralph Wang, the main discussion of the evening included plans for the annual homecoming and festival to be held in July.

Mrs. Cecil Boone will be in charge of the quilt benefit at the homecoming. A card of thanks was received from the Heart Fund for the auxiliary's $10 donation.

Plans were discussed for improvements to be made in the hall of the firehouse. The card parties have been discontinued until fall. Lunch for the evening was served by the hostess. The next meeting will be June 16 at the home of Mrs. Paul Barnett.

Q — What is "parity" as it relates to farm prices?

A — In general, parity means a fair price for farm products. The federal government figures it by comparing the cost of things a farmer has to buy and services he has to pay for with the income he receives from his crops.

Street Building Plans Dropped

Cannot Afford Cost, Say Property Owners

COLUMBIANA — Plans for the improvement of N. Middle St. from W. Salem St. north past the site of the new elementary school building to Cherry St., a distance of two blocks, were abandoned at a meeting of all property owners concerned, the board of education and village council at the school site Thursday evening.

The property owners felt they could not afford the expense of building a new street at this time. The board of education will improve Middle St. as far as the southeast corner of the school property, about half a block.

Before the meeting at the school site, the board met in its office in the high school building and employed three elementary teachers.

Robert Hum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Hum, 106 E. Woodland Ave., who has been an elementary and junior high teacher at Somerset, Pa., will coach junior high football and basketball in addition to teaching. He was graduated from Columbiana High in 1946, and later from the University of Pittsburgh. Mrs. Laura Schaeffer, 18 E. Woodland Ave., had previous experience as a teacher in Canton, and Mrs. Lois Weyman, W. Park Ave., will be a part-time teacher.

The E. J. Salvage Construction Co. of Youngstown, which has the general contract, is already pouring footers for the foundation of the large building.

The senior class of 39 members concluded its high school days with a class day program in the auditorium Friday.

Rev. H. J. Scheidmantele of the Presbyterian Church will preach the baccalaureate sermon in Grace Evangelical and Reformed Church at 8 p.m. Sunday. Rev. Arno Holderread of Zion Hill Church of the Brethren and Rev. Lonnie Baltz of the Church of the Nazarene will participate in the service.

Music by the High School Chorus will be under the direction of Mrs.

Jean Snow, instructor, with Suzanne Nelson as accompanist. Gladys Cleveland and Marjorie Jessop will be soloists. Miss Leona Ehrhart is the church organist.

CIVIL Defense Director George Seederly made two new appointments at the meeting in city hall Thursday evening, but no definite plans for the state-wide alert Monday and Tuesday, June 14 and 15 will be made until further information is received from Youngstown, as Columbiana is a unit of the Youngstown defense set-up.

Oscar Bieshelt was appointed to head the rescue section and Herbert Bortner the health section. Edgar Moser Jr., representing the first aid class of the National Rubber Machinery Co., of which he was one of the instructors the past winter, said the class would give full co-operation. Seederly will relay instructions from Youngstown to his appointees.

The air raid siren, now about the height of the fire siren on the city building, will be raised 16 feet higher to overcome sound wave interference, and the controls will be transferred to the office of the chief of police.

A film entitled, "A Voice Shall be Heard," portraying the defense organization at Syracuse, N.Y., was shown. Every person present was asked to bring another to the next meeting Thursday evening, June 17.

THE M. & H. Bus Line of Leetonia still operates its 7 p.m. bus out of Columbiana through Leetonia and Washingtonville to Salem, Saturday nights, although discontinued some time ago for other nights of the week. A returning bus leaves Salem at 9:30 p.m. Saturdays and is due in Columbiana at 10:10.

Other days of the week the last bus leaves Salem at 5:15 p.m. and is due in Columbiana at 10:10 after a layover in Leetonia. The M. & H. Line operates no busses Sundays or holidays.

With no stops between, a Greyhound express bus leaves Salem for Columbiana at 7:18 p.m. daily, including Sundays and holidays, and a Greyhound bus leaves Columbiana for Salem at 7:50 p.m. daily.

Officers elected at the May meeting of the Columbiana Mothers' Club at the home of Rachel Hart, 215 Court St. Ext., Monday evening will be installed Monday evening, June 21, the last meeting until fall.

The new officers will be Betty Lindsay, president; Janet Fullerton, vice president; Martha Karcher, secretary-treasurer.

William E. Stewart, speaker at the meeting, dwelt on the history of Columbiana. There were 20 in attendance. Dorothy Haney was co-hostess.

Brownie Troop 2, Girl Scouts of the Methodist Church, Mrs. Lawrence Davis, leader, will give a minstrel show for the families in the Presbyterian Church at 7 p.m. Tuesday.

The entire troop will be end men, and Perry Kyser will be interlocutor. Polly Way will be accompanist, and Virginia Way, director.

Jehovah's Witnesses announce a public lecture in Columbiana city hall at 2:30 p.m. Sunday.

County 4-H Youth To Attend Camp LISBON — Several hundred Columbiana County 4-Hers are looking forward to summer training camp at Camp Whitewood Windsor in Ashtabula County.

Last season 163 junior 4-H members and 42 senior members took part in the training sessions.

Councilors will attend camp June 18-20; juniors, July 29-Aug. 2 and seniors Aug. 2-6.

The camp for northeast Ohio clubs is kept up by voluntary work of agriculture extension employees.

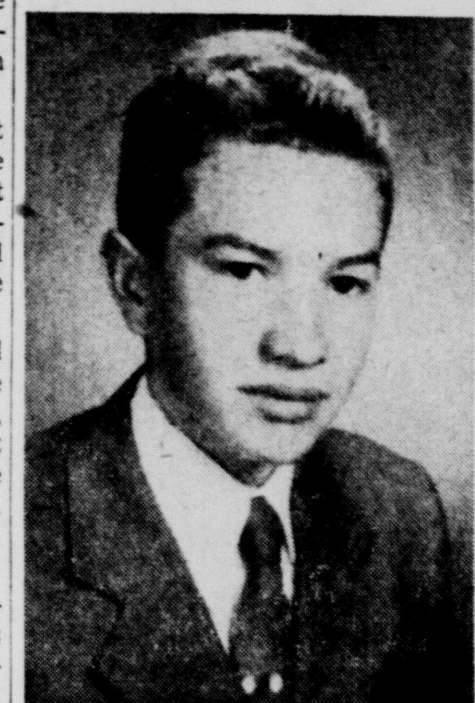

SPECIAL MEETING SET A special meeting of the church council of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church will take place following the worship service Sunday.

Leetonia Butch Offers Village Sites For Business A. F. Butch of Youngstown, the new owner of the McKeefry Iron property spoke at council meeting Wednesday evening of his offer of land to any prospective business. He will either erect a building to their specifications and rent it, or sell it outright. Three new businesses have been contacted to date and plans will be submitted to two of them next week. Mayor Sevensen and Mr. Butch will go to Cleveland next Saturday to meet a prospect. He also offered the village land at the city dump if needed.

COUNTY BRIDGE crew started on the High St. bridge and hope to have it completed in a couple of weeks. Richard Kleinknecht installed man hole covers on open man holes on Ash Street west of Main on the old McKeefry property. Widening of Chestnut St. will be completed Saturday, weather permitting.

Mr. McCartney of McCartney and Sampsell made an inspection of all unpaved streets Thursday and will quote the Village a price on double seal treatment for these streets. No parking on East Columbia was discussed and turned over to the street committee for further study.

Club has extended an invitation to all members of the lodge to attend the grand initiation which the Bellaire Degree Team will conduct May 29, at 6:30 p.m. Following the initiation there will be a buffet lunch, refreshments and dance. The occasion is to celebrate the burning of the mortgage and the twenty-fifth anniversary of the local club. Grand venerable, grand officers and the Italian counselor are expected to be present.

Important business discussions and committee reports are scheduled for the regular meeting of the Leetonia Chamber of Commerce to be held at the High School building Monday. President Edward Greenamyers requests all members to be present.
